

INDIAN PREDICTIONS.—The Marysville Express, of Tuesday, quotes a paragraph from a late number of the Democrat, (crediting it to the Transcript,) entitled "Indian Predictions," and adds:

We have it on good authority that the Indians about this city have prophesied all the floods of the present winter; and, worse than all, they say that our heaviest flood has not yet come. The Indians who were living in the tules, over in Sutter county, made a stampede from the low grounds several days before the last overflow, and went into the foothills and other high places.

 SECRETARY CHASE'S REPORT—A New York letter of December 10th thus alludes to the report of the Secretary of the Treasury:

The long egypt of financial circles is over, and the report of the Secretary of the Treasury is at hand. It relieves the apprehensions of our most cautious bankers, who feared Mr. Chase would recommend an unlimited issue of demand notes, the effect of which would be as seen in the history of French assignats, Continental money and irredeemable bank money the world over, to produce ultimately public distress. The report happily relieves all apprehensions on that score, as Mr. Chase evidently objects to these demand notes as much as the bankers themselves, though all the speculators in the country are in favor of them, as the obvious tendency would be to give us glorious good times for six months or a year ending up with a terrible smash when the era of settlement came. The recommendation that he really makes, for the Government to furnish currency to the different banking associations, rather puzzles financiers here, and was, no doubt, not intended to be very definite. It is evident that so far as Mr. Chase is concerned, the measure of the various bills which he will urge for the adoption of Congress, in relation to this matter, will be founded upon sound financial principles, so that we shall leave as little as possible on the future. We shall doubtless have all the advantages of a great National Bank without many of its disadvantages. At least, the objection, to the old United States Bank, that it was an object of political influence, will not be applicable to the new method of remodeling the currency of the country.

THE WAR AND SLAVERY.—The St. Louis News, of December 10th, has the following very sensible remarks on the proposition for a war of emancipation:

The pain with which we have watched the attempt by radical parliament at the North to make this great war for the Union a fierce and revengeful war for emancipa-tion and the aggressiveness with which we learned that information of this organization was given to Gen. Burgevin, by a citizen of Van Buren county, and a volunteer in the Confederate service. The names of the leaders are well known, and it is who are in hot pursuit of them ever succeed in overtaking them, it would be well to acquaint them with some of the peculiarities of hemp.

We have been permitted to peruse the constitution of this organization. It is called a Peace and Constitutional Society.
 They have 700 members in Searcy, Van Bu-ran, Newton and Leard counties, and 1,700 in the whole State. They have a regular system of secret passwords and are furnished with supplies of money from the Northern camps. The constitution makes it obligatory upon every member to hazard his life in aid of another in distress, and the penalty of expressing any of the secrets of the organization is death. Gen. Burgevin, who was mastering in a regiment at Carrollton, as soon as he heard of the conspiracy, at once hurried down to the counties above, named, to take such steps as might be decidedly necessary. At Clinton he saw Col. J. B. Lewis, who assured him of the correctness of the report. Col. Lewis had called out a regiment of 100 men, and was at that time making arrests, and Gen. Burgevin, being satisfied, from his well known energy of character, and his well known nature, that the matter was in good hands, left the control of the whole affair to that officer.

Col. Lewis reports that those already taken were well supplied with arms and ammunition, and infers that those still at large are equally well equipped. Gen. Bur-gevin reports further to the authorities in reference to the disaffection of the people in that section, and gives the names of certain individuals concerned in fomenting the the Union "Conspiracy" in Arkansas.

 The Little Rock State Journal of the 29th November, notices the arrival at that city of twenty-seven prisoners, members of a secret Lincoln organization from Van Bur-ran county. They were lodged in jail on safe keeping until tried by the civil authorities. Forty others had been arrested, and the names of the most of the members learned. The Journal referring to the "conspiracy," says:

It appears that information of this organiza-
 quaint them with some of the peculiarities
 of hemp.
