

REPORTED INDIAN OUTRAGES NORTH.—The North Californian, published at Eureka, Humboldt bay, of January 18th, says:

We are informed by Joseph Sumption that three men (Hitchcock, Buckley and Brown) came across three Indians one day last week, on the north fork of Yager creek, and made an attack upon them. The Indians showed fight, but were at last killed. In the fight Hitchcock was wounded in the hand. One of the Indians had a fine double-barreled English gun, one barrel rifled and the other for shot, made by Riley, High street, Holborn, London. Sumption was in town to get supplies for a party of fifteen or twenty men, who design spending a couple of weeks in an attempt to put a stop to the continued depredations upon the stock of the settlers.

The Humboldt Times publishes a letter, dated Hydesville (Humboldt county), 17th January, in which the writer says:

The company of volunteers have disbanded, and the lives and property of our citizens are again at the mercy of the Indians. They still continue to levy their daily contributions on the cattle in the Bald hills, and that, too, in some instances, in sight of houses and in the presence of the owners of the cattle. They take the beef into the redwoods, and before a party sufficient to follow can be raised, they have jerked the meat and scattered so as to make it impossible to follow them. We are now trying to form a military company under State authority; whether we will succeed in organizing or not I can't say.

SACRAMENTO DAILY UNION

SACRAMENTO, THURSDAY MORNING, JANUARY 26, 1860.

...bbery got up to build up a certain predominant party, and that we had used the funds for electioneering purposes. Now, I was engaged in that myself. [Laughter.] I was engaged in that election, and I must say there were any fees that came from the County Treasurer. I was not the happy recipient of any of them. [Laughter.]

voted in the minority yesterday, on the question of the passage of the bill known as the bill relating to the alteration of County Judges, to move a reconsideration of the vote whereby the House rejected it. No notice having been given, I am aware a temporary suspension of the rules by a two-third vote is required. I rise to move the rules be suspended that I may move a reconsideration of that vote.
