

FIGHT WITH INDIANS—THIRTEEN INDIANS KILLED AND SEVERAL WOUNDED.—We received yesterday, from a friend at Inqua Ranch, middle Yager, Bald Hills, the following particulars of an attack upon a band of plundering Indians in that region:

On Saturday evening, the 26th inst., a party of ten men, ~~while a stampede of the cattle running here,~~ killing three head belonging to the Messrs. Painter, and one belonging to Taylor & Fairfield, and wounding two others. On Monday morning a party of seven men took their trail and came up on the Indians the second day about 4 o'clock, P. M., fired on them and then made a splendid charge down a steep hill, completely routing the Indians, leaving thirteen dead on the spot, besides severely wounding several others. They also took one gun, (a U. S. yager,) two axes, and a great number of other articles from the Indians, and burned their ranches and provisions.

These Indians are supposed to be the same that tried to rob Messrs. Painter's cabin.

The party arrived home last night safe and sound, without receiving a scratch, but being pretty well used up.

The Union.
 The Union! the hope of the free!
 How soon we may differ, in this we agree—Our glorious banner no traitor shall mar, By flagging a stripe, or despoiling a star!
 Division! No more! the Union forever!
 Aye, onward be the hand that nationality would sever!
 The Union! The Union! 'twas purchased with blood!
 Side by side, to secure it our forefathers stood—From the North to the South, through the length of the land, Ran the war-cry which summoned the patriot band!
 Division! No, never! the Union forever!
 And onward be the hand that our country would sever!
 The Union! The Union! at Lexington, first, Through the clouds of oppression, its radiance burst—
 But at Yorktown rolled back the last vestry crest,
 And, a bright constellation, it blazed in the west!
 Division! No, never! the Union forever!
 And onward be the hand that our country would
 sever!
 The Union! The Union! its brightly light Cheers the heart of the nation who grove in the night,
 And onward be the hand that our country would
 sever!
 A path to the country where freedom abides:
 Division! No, never! the Union forever!
 And onward be the hand that our country would sever!

Gen. Shields on Secession.
 In the course of a lecture, at Sacramento, on the "Character, Life and Times of Andrew Jackson," by General James Shields, that distinguished gentleman is reported by the Examiner to have alluded to the present secession movement in the following patriotic manner:
 "Oh, if we could only recall him now, said the lecturer, from that grand tomb!
 If God could only lead him to us for eight years, or for eight months, to be repaired in the Presidential chair and again to arouse the cry, 'The Federal Union! It must be preserved!' (Applause.) But we have no such men. In all this wide land, amid this fever of dissolution, you have not only not one man worthy of the combination of men that can call up and unite the great heart of the Pacific. I trust the time has not yet come when a man who speaks for his whole country shall give offense; but nothing so astounding and pains me as to have seized upon our people, as to the great things of the times. Don't you think this is an hour of peril? Ten years ago how would the heart of America have yearned to witness what is now transpiring to the East. Yet every one seems to take it as a matter of course. If any thing would indicate that the disease is mortal, it is this apathy, this torpor of the heart of the country as to the present peril. I cannot comprehend it. Here we are, Breckinridge men, Douglas men, Bell men or Republicanism, arming our little places here and there, while the whole existence of our Government is in jeopardy."

Southern Destructives will share the same fate, and be extinguished forever. I do not despair of this Government, even if ten States should withdraw, for the rest which originally constructed it is capable of re-construction. But heavy injury to this new State, you should hold an even balance between the sections. Many of all money for it, and it has been open for them, let not this great and new State take up a position untried by the world, Union. [Applause.] I think God will not suffer this Government to go down.
 I believe that the Union would be Martyr over again; but ten times worse.
 Civil war in this country would be too fearful to contemplate. We have a great work to do in the hands of God, thro' demes, both on this continent and in the old world, as the other side of the Pacific. Put not your trust in politicians, or in preachers, or anything else, but go back to the heart of the people. The people, and they only, can save the Union. [Applause.]
 At the close of the lecture which was nearly two hours long, the choir sang in a spirited and affecting manner, the "Song of our Union," and the audience then dispersed.

Gen. Shields on the possibility of the Union.
 At the close of Governor Downey's recent Message to the Legislature, a speech was made on the following occasion, by Gen. Shields, that distinguished gentleman, and patriotic observations touching "Federal Union."
 The stirring words transpiring upon our Atlantic seaboard would seem to inspire that the Union which binds our free and happy God-fatherly together, is in imminent danger of disruption. How able that unless the conservative element of the Union steps forth and places itself in the breach, the third calamity of this nation will follow. As such a line as this I deem it due to the position I occupy to lay before you the serious position of our Federal Union, and express to your people's representatives, the deep concern which I feel in the possibility of that Union transmitted to our ears by the Father of the Hermitage, for the benefit of success-ing generations for the security of civil and religious liberty, and the honor, glory and power of the American name.
 The people of California, comprising 50 per cent of the population of the Union, are and naturalized American citizens, and every citizen of the country, and every every class of society, have always professed their devotion to the Union, and have always manifested a loyalty to the United States Government, which distance from the Central Government would only seem to strengthen and render more conspicuous. It is a noble and repeatedly shown but constantly national position on the unhappy questions which threaten a disruption of the Union, having no interest in slave-
