MISTAKE.—The article in the Christian Advocate on the Indians and Reservations in this State, names the Klamath Reserve on the We supposing it occurred in that paper unintentionally, and in copying the article merely substituted the name of the proper river—Klamath—but we see the same article going the rounds of our exchanges just as it originally appeared, for which reason we call attention to it: Rogue River is not in California, but in Oregon; and the Klamath Reserve is on the river of the same name, in this State.
THE HUMBOLDT TIMES.

UNION, CALIFORNIA, SATURDAY, FEBRUARY 7, 1857.

[News article content here.]

BIG BRANDING.

Chicago and St. Louis Express

A large branding of cattle was made at a branding by the hands of the branding herdsmen.

THE END.

[End of newspaper page.]