

TROOPS FOR THE NORTH.—General Wright has signified his intention to send a steamer with the proper supplies and munitions to Humboldt, which will convey Colonel Black and two hundred and fifty troops to take the field against the Indians in the northern counties. He makes no objection to Colonel Whipple, who is in command there, considering him as an officer of energy and intelligence, but gives the command to Colonel Black, an enterprising and experienced officer, for the reason that he sends so large a force of the Sixth Infantry. General Wright thinks that these troops, with those in the district, will give a good account of the Indians. The troops in the district consist of six companies of the Third Infantry, one of cavalry, and four of the battalion of Mountaineers, all under command of Lieutenant Colonel Whipple. Three of the companies are not available on account of their being located in sections of the district with which communication is difficult.

UNION.

The roll was called, and the motion to lay on the table was lost—ayes 25, noes 44.

Mr. Rutz explained his vote against laying on the table, and said he should vote against the resolution because this was not a proper hall for a meeting of the kind. He would prefer that a Committee be appointed to obtain the use of Agricultural Hall.

Mr. WILCOX advocated the resolution, and denounced ing objection of the party with which Mr. Winchester acted. They had considered the interference of Federal office-holders as a great outrage. For his part he always thought they had the same rights as white men.

Mr. WINCHESTER said there might be objection to Federal officers interfering on the subject of offices; but this was entirely a different subject—the financial policy of the State. In conclusion, he warned loyal
