INDIAN DIFFICULTIES IN PIT RIVER VALLEY.—From Capt. Judah, of Fort Jones, Scott Valley, who arrived in town on Wednesday evening last, says the Shasta Courier, we learn that there has been another outbreak among the Pitt River Indian. Captain Judah informs us that information had come to him that all the houses in the Valley had been burnt, and it is supposed that all the inhabitants beyond the possibility of a doubt, have been murdered. Frank Rogers, formerly of the firm of Gram, Rogers & Co., with a small party, had left Yreka on snow shoes, for the purpose of finding the body of his father, Mr. Z. R. Rogers.
Indian Difficulties in Pitt River Valley.

It is well known that many and important discoveries have been made, within the last few years, in the vicinity of the coast of ancient Babylonia and Nineveh. None perhaps have been with greater interest than the last one announced, which is undoubtedly the most valuable in the ancient Tower of Babel. The discovery was made by Mr. Place, the French consul at Moshul, and he found it in a spot where it has already amazed the civilized world by the monuments which have brought to light the ruins of the ancient cities of Moshul and Babylon. Here is the result of his labors:

The Greatest Discovery of the Age

According to Moshul's broken and decayed mounds, a temple was erected, which, as we have seen, is said to have been the Tower of Babel. It was dedicated to the worship of the gods of the ancient Egyptians. The temple was destroyed by the lawless and bloodthirsty Assyrians, and the place remained in ruins for many centuries. The discovery of this temple is considered one of the most important and valuable in the history of the world.

The tower, which was built of stone and brick, was surrounded by a wall of stone and brick, which was about 300 feet high and 500 feet wide. The tower was about 100 feet high and 150 feet wide.
