
SAN FRANCISCO, CALIFORNIA,
March 4, 1852.

SIR: The "duplicate" of your letter, dated January 9, informing me that my connexion with the Indian department of this country would cease on its receipt, reached me through "agent Wozencraft," with more than ordinary promptness and despatch. On reaching this city I received the original, and have only time to say, your direction regarding the public property in my possession shall be followed on to-morrow.

I will render my accounts to the department at as early a day as possible. I have also the incomplete vocabulary of several Indian tribes, or bands, which I will arrange as far as I can, and forward to the department.

Very respectfully, your obedient servant,

ADAM JOHNSTON.

Hon. LUKE LEA,
Commissioner of Indian Affairs, Washington City.
