

THE HUMBOLDT MASSACRE.—We have received a communication from S. C. Whipple, editor of the Northern Californian, whose authority we cited Friday for the statement that the Indians about Eureka are harmless and powerless, though degraded, etc. Mr. Whipple seems to object to our having used his name for this indorsement. "What I said," he remarks, "was that I had heretofore supposed that the Indians in the immediate vicinity of Eureka had not been engaged in depredations upon the lives or property of the whites, but that quite recently it had appeared that they were implicated with the mountain Indians in the destruction of the property of citizens of Humboldt county, and that the Indians living in the mountains were in constant intercourse with those of the coast."

We are sorry to be obliged to differ with the gentleman as to what he did say, and still more sorry that he should appear as one desirous of bolstering up the cause of the miscreants who were engaged in the recent diabolical butchery. Mr. Whipple, to the positive recollection of our reporter, made no statement tending to relieve the perpetrators of the crime in his brief conversation with him. The substance of all he said is recited in our article on Friday, but which we now repeat as nearly as possible in his own language: The Indians about Eureka are harmless, lazy and degraded; their women mostly prostitutes; a good many of the young Indians have been taken into the families of the white citizens; Senator Ryan has a young Indian girl [or boy] in his family. At the time of making the above remarks, Mr. Whipple spoke in unmeasured terms of reproach of the bloody deed that has been committed.

SACRAMENTO DAILY UNION

SACRAMENTO, MONDDAY MORNING, MARCH 5, 1860.

I think that something should very valuable, at least to his with $150 in the market, and	according to the competency and talents of the person employed. Amendment adopted. The bill was further amended by striking out as the	alized as a gentleman, and I suppose he is recognized by the him as a gentleman now. Mr. PEAKE—If you will give me their names I will Mr.
--	--	--