Boy's Last Dream.

DIMOND
 At the sailor boy lay, Loosed at the sport of the wind weary, his cares flew away, ness danced o'er his mind.
 cal pinions spread wide, eamer in ecstasy rise,
 in the green waters glide, eathers blesses his eyes, rs in flowers o'er the thatch, s sweet from her nest on the asport, he raises the hatch, ed ones reply to his call:
 im, with looks of delight, d with a mother's warm tear, dy, in the dove-kiss unite said whom his bosom holds:
 or beats high in his breast, :ed his hardships seem o'er, gin; for we find a number of barbers were sent from thence to Rome, in the year 290 B. C.; and the refinement of shaving daily is said to have been first introduced by no less a person than Scipio Africanus. At the expiration of the republic, barbers had become very rare; and historians mention the alarm in which some of the emperors lived lest some of their barbers should cut their throats. For the sake of concealing the scars on his face, the emperor Hadrian wore a beard; and this, of course, brought that ap-pendage into use; but the custom did not long survive him, although his two immediate successors wore beards in the character of philosophers. Among the Romans, shaving did not commence immediately on the appearance of the hair; the youth was suffered to acquire a small beard, and the operation of shaving was performed for the first time with a great deal of ceremony. Persons of quality had the operation performed

Joe Smith's Family at Nauvoo.
 A correspondent of the Missouri Republic writes that last summer he was at Nau-voe, and conversed with Mr. Bitoman, who is married to Joe Smith's widow. He says:
 "I sat at the table with the family, consisting of Mr. Bitoman and wife, and three sons of Joe Smith, the eldest about twenty-three or twenty-four, the second about twenty; the third a lad of some twelve or thirteen years.
 From Mr. Bitoman I learned that not one of the family believe in Mormonism, and that his wife, formerly Mrs. Smith, had always been opposed to them as well as the boys. I was told that Joe Smith prophesied some two years before this young lad was born that a son was to be born to him at or about a certain time; that at the time stated his wife did give birth to a son. At that time he also stated that his son's name would be David, (not Joe) and that is the name of Arrival of the Golden Age.

 The Golden Age arrived at San Francisco on Friday the 27th ult., making the quickest trip from New York on record—in twenty days, twenty-two hours and a half.
Congressional.
 On the 25th, Mr. Mason, of Virginia, from the Committee on Foreign Relations, presented a report on Central American affairs, in which he expressed his approbation of the present neutrality law, but recommended the passage of a bill containing further provisions for bringing offenders to justice. The report embraces resolutions to the effect that the law arms the President with sufficient power to act upon the high seas, and that the seizure of William Walker, although technically illegal, calls for no further censure than such as may prevent it from being hereafter drawn into precedent. In the House the Speaker appointed the
