

The Trinity Journal.

WEAVERVILLE, CAL.,

Saturday Morning, March 24, 1860.

HUMBOLDT COUNTY.—The Times says that little is talked or thought of but Indian matters. The Indians about the Bay are now under protection at Fort Humboldt, and troops have gone to protect those in the Eel river country. Sheriff Van Ness was procuring petitions and affidavits to be forwarded to the Governor. The same paper of March 10th is informed that on the Wednesday preceding an Indian ranch on Eel river was attacked, and twenty-six killed, some of them known to be desperate villains. A dead Mexican was found among the bodies of those killed on Indian Island three weeks ago. Mr. A. L. Pardee, living on Mad river, was fired upon near his house, recently, by his old enemies. They had also plundered the house of B. Crogan, near Angel's ranch, during his absence. Snow was six feet deep at Pardee's old ranch, on the Trinity trail.

SUNDAY

1, SATURDAY, MARCH 24, 1860.

The Trinity Journal.

WEAVERVILLE, CAL.,

Saturday Morning, March 24, 1860.

The Sunset Land.

Oh! dimly through the mists of years,
 That roll their dreary waves between
 The gorgeous sunset land appears,
 Arrayed in hues of fadeless green,
 And from that far-off sunny clime,
 Old half-forgotten songs arise,
 And stealing o'er the waves of Time