

MORE INDIAN OUTRAGES IN HUMBOLDT.
By the arrival of the Humboldt Express, on Thursday, says the Trinity Journal, we learn that another attack was made on the settlers in the vicinity of Angel's ranch, on Monday last. The expressman, whose name we did not learn, states that in the afternoon the Indians attacked the Angel's ranch house, where Geo. Zentner and brother, and two women, were at the time. The younger Zentner was shot in the stomach and hand at the first fire. George escaped from the house, leaving the women, and proceeded to Myner's place for a physician. He states that when some one or two miles from the house he discovered that it was in flames, leaving little doubt that all the inmates were murdered. Previous to this attack they burned the house at Patrick's ranch, and it is feared also that the family of Mr. Goodman, formerly residents of Weaverville, were also murdered, as the Indians crossed the mountain from the direction of their house. The mail carrier to Orleans Bar had been fired on, and a large number of cattle killed.

MILITARY MOVEMENTS AGAINST THE HICK-BOLEND INDIANS.—The Humboldt Times of the 15th of March has the following interesting items:
 In obedience to the orders of Col. Lippitt and Anderson respectively, yesterday Co. Compaigne K and F, 2d Infantry C. V., left Camp Lippitt on Monday for Fort Lyon and Anderson respectively. Yesterday Co. A 3d Infantry started for Fort Baker. Capt. Aker with a detachment of cavalry leaves Alpha morning for vicinity of Cooper's mill; detachments to be relieved each 15 days. The troops are now all in the field with the exception of an available force of about 20 at Fort Humboldt, under command of Lieut. Davis. We hope to hear often from the commands, and shall with great pleasure chronicle their success in subduing the hostile Indians of their respective districts. Mr. Painter informs us that an attack was made yesterday by Indians upon some white men at Logans; the men escaped but were obliged to leave their houses and property to the mercy of the savages. The Indians kill cattle in that region at pleasure, and it seems to be a pleasure for them to do it, as in many instances they leave the carcasses untouched. We commend these Indians to the kind offices of the troops at Fort Lyon.

How to Pish without a Chop.—The San Francisco Herald relates that the people there have a great dread of the small pox. On Thursday evening a crowd collected in front of the Varieties—a Melodion institution—a very short gentleman, in company with a very short gentleman, attempted to pass through the crowd, but on the average were either too long or too short to make the rille. They backed down accordingly, and having retreated to a respectable distance, the long man requested his short friend to take him by the arm and he would guarantee the course would be opened. Short friend acceded, and long man proceeded, shouting in intonation tones: "Gentlemen, will you please make way and allow me to pass through with this small pox patient!" The sidewalk was vacated in an instant, and the long and short friends passed through, laughing in their sleeves at the success of the "dodge." It is a fit illustration of the unwarranted apprehension of

BY OVERLAND TELEGRAPH.
 (From the Associated Press Dispatch.)
 St. Joseph, April 1st.
 Cairo, March 29th.—The firing yesterday at Island No. 10, was quite exciting. The rebels opened fire from a new battery they have just completed. The guns on it are evidently heavy ones; the balls were thrown constantly beyond the gun boat Beaton. The enemy could be seen all day, busily engaged in cutting away trees and pushing the completion of other means of defence. Some of the shot now being thrown are estimated to be 128 pounders. They have no idea of evacuating, but are daily getting more cannon in position. Word reached the fleet last night that four gun boats partly protected by an armor of rail road iron, had appeared below Point Pleasant.

Gen. Pope's batteries extend in columns on line for 15 miles. It is thought impossible for the rebels to force a passage. It is probable, however, if the report of their arrival be true, and they make an attempt, they may be allowed to pass up to the Island, as they cannot get back again. The enemy's boats would then be taken, when the Island is captured, which there is every reason to believe will be soon. Mortars still continue to throw shell into every part of the rebel works.

There is nothing important from Tennessee. An arrival from Memphis to-day, reports general despondency there, and but little confidence felt in the large force concentrating at Corinth.

Fortress Moxhox, March 28th.—Affairs are quiet here as far as at least as they can be communicated. The rebels have been exceedingly busy at Pig's Point and Cracy Island for the last few days. Steam tugs have been busy trying to and fro—it is supposed they are strengthening their fortifications along from Cracy Island to Pig's Point; they have also increased their forces there in vicinity. For effect, their forces have been advanced, and long lines of fortifications have been advanced, and long lines of fortifications have been advanced, and long lines of fortifications have been advanced.
