day, we saw and conversed with Mesars. Tobid and Henley, who had just arrived in town from the Mendocino Indian Resertion, and who represented affairs to be in a prosperous condition. The Indians humber several thousand, and with few exceptions appear contented and happy; they are fast sequiring a knowledge of husbandry and civilization. Several hundred scres of potatoes, outs, &c. have been planted, and bid fair to yield an abundant crop The amount of tillege land is ample, and the soil well calculated for agricultural purposes, while the climate for health and comfort, is unsurpassed on this coast, being within a few miles of the sea, yet protected from the high winds by dense forest of timber
