

THE BELLE OF HUMBOLDT.—The volunteers tell of having captured an exceedingly pretty Indian woman, who, like all pretty women, was very saucy, and did very much as she pleased. She is about seventeen years of age, and, compared with females of her race, is declared to be a beauty. She was sent with the rest to Mendocino.

PASSED.—A later dispatch states that the bill for relief of volunteers has passed the Assembly. Gen. Kibbe telegraphed to the boys to make liquid indulgence at his personal expense, which they did, at the "Magnolia."

WEAVERVILLE, CALIFORNIA, SATURDAY, APRIL 16, 1859.

To Mountain Traders

J. S. McCain, P. McCain.
J. S. McCain & Co.
Cor. Main and Court Sts.,
(West Side.)

The Trinity Journal.

CALVIN R. McDONALD, Editor.

"Humboldt."—During the Revolutionary war Josiah Quincy, adopting the signature of "Humboldt," printed a series of revolutionary articles in the Boston Gazette. When we read the following...