

INDIAN SUPERINTENDENT FOR CALIFORNIA.—A Special dispatch to the New York Herald, dated at Washington March 10th says:

James Y. McDuffie has been confirmed as Superintendent of Indian Affairs in California.
Commiss-ioner Denver again protested against McDuffie's appointment to any position under the Indian Bureau, and informed the President that he should resign if the appointment was made. Nugent, of California, however, insisted on the appointment being made over Den-ver's protest. He has carried the day, and tomorrow Denver will resign his office as Commissioner of Indian Affairs. Thus we go.

THE NEVADA DEMOCRAT.

VOL. VI, NO. 29. NEVADA, CALIFORNIA, WEDNESDAY MORNING, APRIL 20, 1859. WHOLE NO. 289.

THE DIVISION OF NEVADA.

The Division of Nevada is a subject which has been discussed in the columns of this paper for some time past. It is a subject which has attracted the attention of the public mind, and which has become a matter of general interest. The question is, whether it is expedient to divide the Territory of Nevada into two or more States, and if so, what should be the basis of the division. The subject is a complex one, and involves many considerations of a political, geographical, and economic nature. It is a subject which has been discussed in the columns of this paper for some time past. It is a subject which has attracted the attention of the public mind, and which has become a matter of general interest. The question is, whether it is expedient to divide the Territory of Nevada into two or more States, and if so, what should be the basis of the division. The subject is a complex one, and involves many considerations of a political, geographical, and economic nature.

THE DIVISION OF NEVADA (Continued).

The subject of the division of Nevada is a complex one, and involves many considerations of a political, geographical, and economic nature. It is a subject which has attracted the attention of the public mind, and which has become a matter of general interest. The question is, whether it is expedient to divide the Territory of Nevada into two or more States, and if so, what should be the basis of the division. The subject is a complex one, and involves many considerations of a political, geographical, and economic nature. It is a subject which has attracted the attention of the public mind, and which has become a matter of general interest. The question is, whether it is expedient to divide the Territory of Nevada into two or more States, and if so, what should be the basis of the division.

THE DIVISION OF NEVADA (Continued).

The subject of the division of Nevada is a complex one, and involves many considerations of a political, geographical, and economic nature. It is a subject which has attracted the attention of the public mind, and which has become a matter of general interest. The question is, whether it is expedient to divide the Territory of Nevada into two or more States, and if so, what should be the basis of the division. The subject is a complex one, and involves many considerations of a political, geographical, and economic nature. It is a subject which has attracted the attention of the public mind, and which has become a matter of general interest. The question is, whether it is expedient to divide the Territory of Nevada into two or more States, and if so, what should be the basis of the division.

THE DIVISION OF NEVADA (Continued).

The subject of the division of Nevada is a complex one, and involves many considerations of a political, geographical, and economic nature. It is a subject which has attracted the attention of the public mind, and which has become a matter of general interest. The question is, whether it is expedient to divide the Territory of Nevada into two or more States, and if so, what should be the basis of the division. The subject is a complex one, and involves many considerations of a political, geographical, and economic nature. It is a subject which has attracted the attention of the public mind, and which has become a matter of general interest. The question is, whether it is expedient to divide the Territory of Nevada into two or more States, and if so, what should be the basis of the division.

THE DIVISION OF NEVADA (Continued).