

ARRIVAL OF TROOPS.—Two companies of California Volunteers arrived on Sunday per steamer Oregon, destination Ft. Gaston. It is understood—outside military circles—that Capt. John's company by which Fort Gaston has been garrisoned during the winter, is to be relieved by the new troops and will shortly march to join its own regiment on the trans-continental mail-route. The troops by the Oregon, under command of Lieut.-Col. James N. Olney, 2d Infy., are composed of Co. H, Capt. W. H. Short; 1st Lieut. John Mulholland; 2d Lieut., Wm. Campbell; Co. I, Capt. Edward R. Theller; 1st Lieut., Alfred Morton; 2d Lieut. W. F. R. Schindler.

General McClellan's Dream.

BY WESLEY BRADSHAW.

The following we find going the rounds: as a story it is quite readable, and for some possessors peculiar interest.

Two o'clock of the third night after Gen. McClellan's arrival in Washington iciclo again began its sawing motion through my heart. For, as pencil in hand, I compared the map before me with the living map, I saw masses of the enemy's forces being hurried to certain points as to thwart movements that, within day or two, I intended to make at those identical points; while on two particular approaches to Washington I beheld heavy that, now in my estimation, unearthly map.--I threw myself into the saddle and long ere daylight galloping from pos-to post and from camp to camp, had happiness to divert the onomy from his object, which my friend, I assure you, would have proved entirely successful, by reason of the last piece of treachery, had not Heaven interposed.
