

FROM PITT RIVER.—We extract the following interesting intelligence from Pitt River, from the Yreka Union. The information was furnished them by Mr. Wiley J. Fox, who returned from Pitt river a few days ago, in company with Mr. S. Lockhart. The company found no snow in the valley. On the 25th of March they killed an Indian who was out as a spy for the tribe, and on the 7th of April they surprised a rancharia and killed sixteen, among them two or three women and one child. They also took 23 prisoners of the women and children; they set the women at liberty and kept the children. On the 12th of April they killed another Indian, making eighteen in all. The Indians at first denied having anything to do with the murder of the whites last winter, and said it was done by the Modocs; but finally, a squaw, who was a prisoner, acknowledged that their tribe participated in the massacre, and said that three of the Modoc tribe were there, as well as the Hat Creek Indians, and a tribe living in Grass Valley, on the East Fork of Pitt river. On the 12th the party hung an Indian whom they had taken prisoner in her presence, and she was threatened with death if she did not divulge the truth, when she made the above statement. She made other statements in regard to the massacre, which they afterwards learned to be true. She said Harry Lockwood had been attacked at his house, about one o'clock in the afternoon, and that he had killed five of the Indians before they killed him. The Indian 'Paches' and a white man were out after a load of hay, and were attacked on the road and killed. They did not learn any particulars of the time or manner of the death of any of the others, except the German, whose name is not known and whose body they found. His throat had been cut, his left arm cut off just below the elbow, a chain fastened to his leg and the body thrown into the river.

May 2 1857

Butte Record

OROVILLE, BUTTE COUNTY, CALIFORNIA SATURDAY, MA

I had become very much ind with the company, and more ally with the patron, as he spoke olish language freely, and in middle of the wood, while farther down the stream, and against rock, the party of Frenchmen had lighted their camp-

'Who was he, then?'
'Why, Garcia.'
'Who is Garcia?'

Eloquent Extract.
Gen. Cass concluded his able sp in the Senate, December 11th on

Butte

Record.

CALIFORNIA SATURDAY, MAY 2. 1857.

Who was he, then?
Why, Garcia!
Who is Garcia??
Garcia is Three-fingered Jack.

Eloquent Extract.

Gen. Cass concluded his able speech in the Senate, December 11th, on the

SINGULAR CURE FOR RHEUMATISM.
—The following cure for rheumatism is copied from the Scalpel, a very interesting journal published in New

A FRENCH
Sicilè contu
On the town in the