

FROM REDDING'S SPRINGS.—We have received late accounts from this point. The Indians are complained of as being exceedingly troublesome and as keeping up the constant fears of the whites. The stealing of animals is an every day occurrence. They are represented as becoming bolder every day in their incursions. Nothing short of extermination will subdue them, as they are a fearless kind of Indians (totally unlike the degenerate and harmless Diggers that visit our city.

THE DAILY UNION.

SACRAMENTO CITY, TUESDAY, MAY 6, 1851.

[PRIC