

CONVENTION TO CONSIDER INDIAN MATTERS. In compliance with the request of citizens from various sections of our county, Sheriff Van Nest publishes a call for a county Convention to consider Indian matters, in another column of to-day's paper. We hope to see every precinct in the county represented as matters of importance will come before the Convention.

Material Advantages of the Town Site.
There are many reasons for anticipating that as the silver mines are developed and regularly worked, Carson City will become the favorite place of residence for the families of those engaged in the silver work, who desire to have their households near them. The immediate vicinity of the mines is not considered suitable for comfortable residence, because of the disagreeable and variable winds prevailing there, as well as of the water which at Virginia City is said to be unpleasant to the taste, and impregnated with arsenic and other deleterious substances. Already there are quite a number of ladies residing in Carson City, and many children. A school mistress is also engaged, a press is successful operation; and a church edifice and jail may be speedily looked for.

Until quite recently there was no line in Carson City, but not long ago, Mr. Halsey of San Francisco found a quarry of limestone, from which he is burning a very excellent quality of lime. The quarry is only about a mile distant from the city. Mr. Halsey has also taken up an extensive quantity of excellent granite, distant two miles from town, and from which he is taking stone to be used in the erection of warehouses, &c. really contracted for. I shall be greatly disappointed if a year or two does not show us a most prosperous and respectable town at Carson City.

Sweet Home.

How oft we hear thee scold, would!
We hear them breathe in song,
When music bursts from happy hearts
That still to joy belong!
When weary beams of daylight dawn,
Or when the shadows fall,
We hear the gladome echoes tell,
"Sweet home" hath charms for all.

Those simple words: That plaintive air!
My mother sang the strain
In days gone past, in happy days,
That may not come again!
She sang it by the household hearth,
Our father sitting by,
And smiles were playing on his lip,
But tear-drops dimmed his eye!

"On earth there is no place like home,"
She taught my lips to say,
But all that made my home so dear
— Long since has passed away!
We hear no more her gentle voice,
At morning or at even;
She has an angel's golden harp,
Her song is heard in Heaven.

I hear it sung by others now,
And o'er my soul the while,
Serenades, sadly sweet, that bring
A tear-drop and a smile!
And oh! 'tis sweet to now to hear
Those thrilling murmurs fall,
"Home, sweet, sweet home," 'tis not of earth,
LETTERS FROM WASHOE.

It can be asserted as a demonstrated fact that they are immensely valuable. For my self, however, I have little doubt of it. In view of the results obtained from surface prospecting, the prospect of gold in the Humboldt region is very bright.

The Wonder of Good Hill.

Gold Hill, of which we have heard so much, we passed about a mile and a half below Virginia. It also is quite a busy and prosperous looking settlement. Here, too, were rich gold diggings; and some of the tunnels are being cut in about amounts of gold every day. As high as $1,000 has been taken on a single bucket of dirt; and the bits of quartz washed out in the tailings are worth a fortune. The amount of gold taken out of the "Makers Eye" mine is a large sum. It is said to be worth $100,000. The prospect of gold in the Humboldt region is very bright.

— E. B. BULLOCK, W. C. MAREY, for the Humboldt Times, Virginia City, Utah Territory, June 10, 1860.

At our tedious journey by stage was at an end, and we arrived at Virginia City which we found alive with San Francisco acquaintances. Worrying our way through the streets, we were met by a number of our old friends, who were all well and happy. We were all very glad to see each other, and we were all very glad to see each other.

Quite contented for the present, with my experience on mule back, I took the stage at Carson City this morning for this place. The stage upon this line are large, open wagons, and the ride is very comfortable. We were all very glad to see each other, and we were all very glad to see each other.
