FROM SHASTA.—By the Courier of Saturday, we learn that there has been another Indian fight on the trail between Shasta and Yreka. Notwithstanding the Indians displayed unusual daring on the occasion, none of the packers were killed, although one, an American, had his wrist almost entirely severed. The Indians succeeded in capturing and carrying off nine mules and cargoes.

A man by the name of John Fisher, was tarred and feathered in Shasta, on Friday, for attempting improper liberties with a little girl. He was in that condition rode on a jackass all through the town.
