Nowe CULT:—The Indian Reservation of this name is situated about seventy-five miles west of the town of Tehania, in the forks of what is known as Eel River, on the west slope of the coast range of mountains. Mr. Farr, who resides on the Reservation, says that there are near four thousand Indians collected—that they have sown five hundred acres of wheat, and that there—are three hundred head of stock on the premises.—S. F. Herald.
