

HOSTILE INDIANS.—The Pike tribe of Indians near the sources of the tributaries of Feather river, are giving great trouble to the miners who have ventured among them. It is not safe for small parties to go unarmed, although as yet they have only seized and carried off mules, provisions &c. at night. The white population there is so sparse, that the miners fear to attack them.

DAILY UNION

MENTO CITY, THURSDAY, MAY 29, 1851. [