MCGOWAN'S TRIAL.

Closing Speech of Gov. Foote—The Judge's Charge.

NAPA, June 1st, 1857.

(In order to complete the report of the trial of

Mr. Coffroth speaks of his acquaintance with McGowan. He (Gov. Foote) did not know the prisoner at the bar, and God forbid, that he should do him injustice. He knew nothing concerning his family in Philadelphia, and whether he was always a kind, affectionate husband and father, or whether he was neglectful, dissolute and vicious. These facts, not being in the record either way, the jury could pay no attention to them.

Gov. Foote then commenced to run rapidly over
