

NEWS FROM EL DORADO.—We are indebted to our attentive correspondent "H." at Placerville, for the subjoined letter, containing the latest movements of "the grand army." The troops seem to have completely surrounded the Indians, and we earnestly hope that this tremendously expensive war is nearly at an end. As it is, we fear our State will not soon recover from the drain made upon her resources, without aid be tendered by the general government.