

FROM THE INDIAN FIGHTERS.—We have received the following letter from Capt. Abe. Miller, commanding Company O, "Mountaineers," dated at Burnt Ranch, in this county, May 24th:

FRIEND GORDON.—I know you will be glad to hear that Company O is at last in Trinity county. I left Fort Gaston with my Company on the 11th inst., and arrived at Burnt Ranch on the 13th, where we are now camped. Since our arrival, we discovered an Indian ranch on the South Fork, but failed to connect, as some Indians crossed the trail of the party and gave the alarm in time for all to make their escape. Lieut. Middleton, with twenty men, forded the river at midnight, and was much disappointed to find that they were about one hour too late. These same Indians went to the Fort next day, and gave themselves up. I suppose you have heard that peace has been made with most of the Hoopa Diggers. Ceonaitin John and Big Jim are bringing their warriors from the mountains to the Fort, and if no new cause of complaint sends them out again, the war will soon be confined to the Grouse Creek and Yuka Indians, and a few Redwoods. One good, vigorous campaign, not noted for strategy, but for hard scouting and fighting, it would seem might reduce the thing to a pretty small point. Col. Black is really in earnest, and Col. Whipple will not fail to second him in his endeavors to terminate as soon as possible, the war which has been so detrimental to the interests of Trinity and Humboldt. I expect Company O will make Burnt Ranch their headquarters for a month or two, and that we shall scout in this vicinity, and also give the Grouse Creek Diggers a stirring up. Company A, now at Gaston, will also scout on the Grouse Creek range, and between the two Companies Mr. Digger will have a rather poor show. I send this letter and some others by a party of my men who will hunt for Indians in the direction of Big Flat. I should like to send somebody for Washington, but my present orders will not allow me to do so; I think, however, I shall receive orders to that effect before we are again removed. There is a probability that the mail route from Gaston to Weaverville will be opened in a few days. Lieut. Watson has been relieved from his duties as Quartermaster by Lieut. Pratt, and as soon as the final papers are finished will re-join his company. Last but not least—is there any show for recruiting in your neighborhood. I wish to fill the Company if possible, and if you could send some encouragement I think Col. Whipple would detach some one from the Company to open a recruiting office in your place. If the route is opened I will try and keep you advised on all affairs pertaining to the war.

THE BATTLE OF GETTYSBURG.—The rebel army

Northern Dead in Southern Lands.

In hollows of the Southern hills,
In gloomy gorge in solemn shade,
In ravines where the rivalet trills
Its gushing music through the glade,
Wide, wide o'er all the region spread
Behold the ashes of the dead.

Some by the blue Potomac's tide,
