

"Vincent E. Geiger has been inducted into the position of Indian Agent..."
The Placer Herald, June 27, 1857: p. 2, col. 5.

Vincent E. Geiger has been inducted into the position of Indian Agent at the Nome Lackee Reservation. Colonel Stevenson is to proceed to Pitt River to establish a new Reservation. Colonel Henry and Mr. Storms crossed the mountains with the cattle bound for Nome Cult Reservation, on the 12th. The Colonel will proceed down the coast to Mendocino, and return to San Francisco.

"Vincent E. Geiger into the position of
 The Placer Herald

THE PLACER HERALD

NUMBER 42

VOLUME 5.

AUBURN, PLACER COUNTY, CALIFORNIA, JUNE 27, 1897.

THE PLACER HERALD.

Published every Saturday
 Main Street, Auburn, Placer County, Cal.
 CHARLES H. MITCHELL

TERMS
 (Specimens liberally in advance.)
 One year in advance $3.00
 Six months do..... 2.00
 Three months do..... 1.00
 All subscriptions will be discontinued at the expiration of the time subscribed for, without a continuance is ordered by the publisher.

RATES OF ADVERTISING.
 One square of 10 lines first week $1.00
 For half a square (five lines) or less 75c
 Each subsequent insertion 50c
 For ordinary notices of personal advertisements charged half rates. Notices of marriages, births or deaths, free.
 Liberal deductions made to the publishers for the advance of the Placer Herald, and for quarters to make notice of the more hotels in the city of every person.

The Song of Labor.
 The banking of the moment,
 The whirling of the place,
 The crawling of the life raw
 The crawling of the soul,
 The flaring of the soul,
 The flaring of the soul,
 The clattering of the turning lathe,
 The whirling of the wheel,
 The rattling of the loom,
 The rattling of the loom,
 The rattling of the loom,
 The rattling of the loom,
 The rattling of the loom,
 The rattling of the loom,
 The rattling of the loom,
 The rattling of the loom,
 I love—I love—I love.

Doericks "Helps Move."
 The 1st of May is the international day of labor in all civilized countries. It is a day of significant remembrance to the workers of the world, a day when they pause to reflect on the struggles and sacrifices that have led to their present status. In Placer County, California, the day is marked with various activities, from parades to speeches, as workers demand better wages and working conditions. The day also serves as a reminder of the contributions of laborers to the economic growth and development of the region.

Two Hundred and Forty Thousand Dollars or Nothing.
 The lumber industry in Placer County has been facing significant challenges in recent years. With two hundred and forty thousand dollars at stake, the industry is in a critical position. The market has been volatile, with prices fluctuating and demand uncertain. Despite these challenges, industry leaders remain optimistic, believing that there is still potential for a strong recovery. They are working to address the issues and ensure that the industry can meet the needs of the community and continue to provide employment and economic stability.

Heavy Chipping.
 The heavy chipping industry in Placer County is a vital part of the local economy. These workers are responsible for processing raw materials into finished products, contributing significantly to the region's industrial output. The industry has seen steady growth over the years, with new investments and technologies being introduced to improve efficiency and quality. The workers' skill and dedication are essential to the success of the industry, and their efforts are highly valued by the community.

The community of Placer County is a diverse and resilient one, with a strong sense of unity and shared purpose. As we navigate the challenges of the future, we must continue to support our workers and the industries that provide for our needs. By working together, we can build a better, stronger, and more prosperous future for all. The spirit of labor is the spirit of progress, and it is this spirit that has defined our community and will continue to guide us forward.

The Placer Herald is committed to providing our readers with the most up-to-date and comprehensive news and information. We strive to cover all aspects of the community, from local events and issues to national and international news. Our goal is to be a trusted source of information for our readers, providing them with the insights and perspectives they need to understand the world around them. We welcome your feedback and suggestions, and we are always looking for ways to improve our service to the community.

The Placer Herald is proud to be part of the Placer County community. We are committed to providing our readers with the highest quality news and information, and we are always looking for ways to improve our service to the community. We welcome your feedback and suggestions, and we are always looking for ways to improve our service to the community.