

THE MURDERED GIRLS.—It is now ascertained that the elder one of the girls recently murdered by the Indians, must have been killed before aware of her danger. She was evidently shot (with an arrow) through the heart while in the act of picking blackberries. The other was dragged a short distance from the blackberry patch and then shot through and through with arrows. The clothing of the elder was entirely stripped from her body.

Bluff Beacon

re, Education, Agriculture, General Intelligence, &c., &c.

THURSDAY, JULY 3, 1862.