

INDIAN AFFAIRS.—Under date Burnt Ranch, July 3d, Capt. Miller writes to John Martin, of this place, among other things, that as soon as the supply train arrived from Fort Gaston a detachment of thirty men would be sent to Hiampom valley to remain until the Indians who committed the late depredations in that neighborhood are found and punished. The duty of protecting the Trinity border from hostile Indians has been assigned to Capt. Miller, and he intends to perform it to the letter. Let "take no prisoners" be your motto, Abc.

The Refugees-

By the mountain springs of the Cumberland,
Under the leafless trees,
With faces lit by the midnight brand,
Sat the hunted refugees.
