

Gose.—Capt. Miller, accompanied by Lieut. Watson, our old friend John F. Heckman, better known as "Snyder," John Alexander, and several other members of Company C, "Mountaineers," left on Wednesday morning for the scene of their duties. We hope to see the whole Company return when the Indian nuisance in Humboldt county is abated. Of one thing we feel certain: Those who do come back will bring a well-earned reputation for bravery and manly bearing. The Humboldt people will find that Company C is composed of just the material required to punish the murdering, thieving redskins.

Weekly Trinity Journal

A Family Newspaper, Independent in Politics, and Devoted to the Advancement of Home Industry

WEAVERVILLE, CALIFORNIA, JULY 25, 1863.

Society Notices.

Trinity Lodge, No. 27, F. & A. M.—Hold their regular communications at Masonic Hall, Weaverville, on the last Monday of each month. Hour of meeting, six o'clock, p. m.
 WM. BAHR, Secretary. JOHN A. WATSON, W. M.

Weekly Trinity Journal.

Weaverville, Saturday, July 25, 1863.

HOW THE REBEL GENERAL JENKINS PAROLED

Southern Aristocracy.

The article below is copied from the February number of the Southern Literary Messenger, a monthly magazine, published at Richmond, Va., the present Capital of the so-called Confederate States of America. This magazine, ever since it commenced existence; says the Washoe Times, has

UNION FOR THE following from the Journal, should Union men in lesson:
 "We plead for Union. Let us and combine in