

---

INDIAN FORESIGHT.—We are informed that a party of wild Indians visited Round Valley a few nights since, and harvested several acres of wheat for Col. Davis. They took it into the mountains and threshed and cleaned it. They were followed, and about 30 bushels recovered. This is a new freak—the redskins seem inclined to profit by their contact with the whites, and are learning to lay up for a rainy day.

