

MORE INDIAN OUTRAGES.—The Northern Californian of Aug. 3d records the following recent predations:

The house of Peter Donnelly, on Yager Creek, near its junction with Van Dusen, was entered by Indians and robbed of everything valuable in the house, amounting to about $200. Some ammunition was also taken. The house of C. Luther was also robbed at about the same time by Indians, they taking blankets, clothing, cooking utensils, ammunitions, tools, etc.

Mr. Donnelly was in Weaverville at the time of the robbery, and we can pretty well imagine his wrath when on his return he found his humble home pillaged. Life-loving red skins are warned against venturing within range of Pete's all-searching rifle, for a while.

The illustration depicts a panoramic view of a coastal town, likely San Francisco, with a large figure in the foreground. The word "Journal" is written in a large, decorative, gothic-style font across the middle of the scene. Below the illustration, the text "CALIFORNIA, SATURDAY, AUGUST 13, 1859." is printed in a bold, serif font. To the right of this text, the word "NUM" is visible, likely part of "NUMBER". At the bottom of the page, there are several small, illegible notices and advertisements, including "al Notices.", "Entest State Events.", and "Letter from 'Anti-".
