Oppression of Diggers. We take the following from the Bulletinnot having seen it in the paper in which it originally appeared. The "Bee's informant" -iı ŧ is much-better posted in regard to the region. 8 of country mentioned, than any informant we 0 can find among the best citizens in the lower ł١ part of this county. We are as much opſ posed to oppressive cruelty_toward_the_dig_ Í gers, probably, as any of our philantly opic cotemporaries, and would cheerfully denounce, such conduct on the part of our own citizens ŀ or any other people; we are equally as much opposed to such unfounded stories as this, which makes its first appearance at Sacramento. We are informed by gentlemen from below, who are bitterly opposed to the practice of associating with diggers, or having apything to do with them, that there is no such valley or place within thirty miles of the mouth of Rel River, with "but one permanent white settler;" and further, there is no such -thing as kidnapping and selling Indians, as stated. We speak now of the country extending to and including Bear River and Mattole, the latter of which lies more than thirty miles below feel River. Beyond that there are no settlements that we claim to know anything about. The removal of them on the Reservations is recommended in order. to protect the "unfortunate diggers" from the "lawless white men." We have repeatedly urged the necessity of their removal, not alone. for their own benefit and safety, but for that of the whites also, for whom our sympathy is always first excited. The locus in quo of this tale is incorrect, or else the whole thing is a fabrication, and we call upon the-Bee-for-thename of the particular-Valley-referred to, and also the name of the only white settlor therein who is the hero of the barbacities montioned. urged the necessity of their removal, not alone Ċ1 for their own benefit and safety, but for that en of the whites also, for whom our sympathy, is 10 always first excited. The locus in que of this 80 tale is incorrect, or else the whole thing is a -Inbrication, and ye call upon the Bee for the name of the particular-Valley-referred to, and also the name of the only white settler therein who is the hero of the barbarities montioned. Let us have the names. Here is the extract:

The Sacramento Bee has learned from a- 7 present resident of Sacramento, who has recently returned from a hunting trip in Hum- 1 boldt county, of some outrages committed upťt on the Indians of that region, which ought to 7 be made public. It appears that the Bee's a informant went up to a valley about thirty miles south of the month of Eel river, which empties into the Pacific, and, finding plenty, fa of elk, deer and bear, he temporarily located. Ş The region is filled at this-season-with_Amer-1ican hunters. There is but one permanent white resident in the valley-a man who went h there from Nevada county with a Digger squaw for his wife, accompanied by the Indians of the rancharia rom which be took her. He is living upon a ranch, the limits of which have not yet been surveyed, and which is cova ered by a large mumber of cattle brought a there and placed upon-it, from time to time, by himself. The increase of his stock promises to be rapid; in fact, the man is already a-wealthy individual, though occupying solisolated and semi-savage a condition. Losing some of his cattle recently, which the informaut says he is certain were in some instances ÿ killed, and in others driven_off, by the hunters, he attributed the depredations to the Indians belonging to that region, and requested the hunters to shoot down every Indian-3 (except-those-he-brought-with-him-from-Novada county) that they should come across S Many of the hunters were more than ready to act upon the suggestion, for it gave them astill better chance for carrying on a traffic in ", which they had previously been engaged, to wit: kidnapping Digger children and selling; ŧI thenr in different parts of the country, A great many Indians have thus been shot down in cold blood by these white savages, and the n inhuman practice of kidnapping is now going, on with the steadiness of a regular system
