

INDIAN FIGHT.—A dispatch to the Marysville papers, of this morning, states that a fight recently occurred near the Nomo Cult farm, between the settlers of Round Valley and a band of Indians and Mexicans. One hundred and eight Indians and two or three Mexicans are reported to have been killed. None of the whites were injured in the fight. The Indians, it appears, had been stealing stock from Round Valley, and were followed and overtaken by the settlers, who recovered twenty-eight hogs.

ANOTHER MILLBURNER FIZZLE.—A New York correspondent, writing September 24th, says:

Last Sunday was the day set apart by a portion of the Millrites in this vicinity for the grand rising of saints, and accordingly the disciples of this particular class were gathered together all day at their hall in the Bowers, patiently awaiting the sound of the last trumpet. The weather was gloomy enough throughout the day to justify any one's desire to rise into a better world, but these sanguine people were doomed to disappointment. After sitting for some ten consecutive hours awaiting the moment, and in efforts, by prayers and supplications, to hasten it, up to the hour even when the gloomy shades of evening had closed upon them, they were reluctantly forced to own that they had made a slight mistake in the time, and to postpone their several ascensions until some future day not yet announced.

At one moment, it is said, just before sundown, when the clouds lifting in the west, a gleam of sunshine burst upon the weary world; the disciples believed the hour had really come, and starting up, and adjusting their ascension robes, the whole assembly—brethren and sisters, with locked hands, stood calmly awaiting the last summons. Some of the sisters, finally getting impatient at the delay, made unsuccessful attempts to crawl, in spider fashion, up the smooth walls of the room. A spectator who was present at this ridiculous farce, says he was very much amused at the efforts of nearly all of the brethren to lock hands with almost any other of the sisters than their own wives!

MINERAL REGION OF CALIFORNIA.—It is doubtful, remarks the Stockton Inspector, if the world contains another tract of country of about equal extent, to that known as the copper region of California, possessing so great a variety and quantity of minerals. Intelligent practical miners who have prospected there for years and familiarized themselves with what the earth offers, remarks the Stockton Inspector, it is

AFFAIRS OF THE SOUTHERN COAST.—The Norfolk (Va.) Day Book, received at Washington Oct. 12th, contains a dispatch from New Orleans, giving an account of the capture and attack made on Col. Philip Wilson's Zouaves on Santa Rosa Island, on the 5th inst.—Detachments from several Alabama, Louisiana and Alabama regiments made a landing in the night and drove in Wilson's Zouaves; shortly afterward a fierce fight began. The Zouaves are credited with having fought with great bravery, and the rebels admit a loss of 140 killed and 80 wounded. The rebels claim to have spiked guns of the Zouaves and destroyed all their camp equipage. They also claim to have committed great slaughter among the Zou-aves, but give no number of killed. The rebels also say they carried off a number of prisoners.

A Washington dispatch of the 12th, has the following:
The last news from the Gulf Squadron left Commodore McKean, who succeeded Commodore Mervine, on board the Niagara, which is now the flag ship, off Pass a Loutre.
He was making active preparations for the complete closing up of the Mississippi. He would then move from that position to Pensacola. The whole coast, from Galle-ton to the Florida Reefs, was completely blockaded. Fort Pickens is prepared to resist Pensacola. Forts McRae and Barrancas, and hold them. There is no doubt in the opinions of the best officers that the blockade can be taken without serious difficulty.

The Richmond Whig publishes the following telegraph from New Orleans, the date being Sept. 20th.

A sailor captured by the Federal war steamer Massachusetts, and subsequently set adrift in a leaky boat, on account of refusing to take the Lincoln oath, was picked up and arrived here. He reports that the Federalists have 9 batteries on Chandler Island, and are expecting lumber to build houses and hospitals. 12,000 men are to be placed on that island and in the neighborhood. They also intended to fortify Ship Island, and prevent all communication between Mobile and New Orleans. The sailor said that the enemy received daily
