RANCH BURNED BY INDIANS:—Some time during last week, the ranch owned by Pardeo & Barney, which had been vacated on account of being surrounded by hostile Indians, was burned down, and all the property belonging thereto destroyed. The Indians who did the mischief dug up the potatoes, thrashed out the oats, killed what hogs and poultry there was on the place, and carried off every thing of any value. This loss will fall heavy on the owners, as the place was well fitted up, and all they were worth was on it. Moreover they have spent most of their time the past summer in hunting Indians, and have been able to do but little on their place.
