

FROM THE INDIAN BATTALION.—A note from Lieut. Watson, dated Fort Humboldt, November 21st, furnishes the information that himself, and in fact all the Trinity boys, are in good health, and awaiting orders. Lieut. Watson's wife had arrived safely at the Fort, and on the following day would start for Fort Gaston, "overland," [isn't the Trinity navigable, John?] preparatory to going into winter quarters. Our old friend wishes to be remembered to all Trinitarians who "hurrah for the Union," [sane, yet,] and closes with the remark that "our mail facilities are damnable." Where's Denny, the indomitable contractor who drew his pay regularly so long as the route was necessarily closed, and threw up the contract as soon as it was opened? Bad egg; that Denny.

Trinity Journal

per, Independent in Politics, and Devoted to the Advancement of Home Ent

WEAVERVILLE, CALIFORNIA, DECEMBER 3, 1864.

TORE.

Professional Cards.

Weekly Trinity Journal.

A Protest.

N.

J. CHADBOURNE, H. J. HOWE.
CHADBOURNE & HOWE

County Warrants taken at their ruling value

Who speaks of "an armistice?" Who talks of What traitorous, cowardly murmurs are these?
With rebels and traitors what peace can there be?
But the peace which results from actual defeat.