

MORE INDIAN TROUBLES.—To the Expresses of Wells, Fargo & Co. and Adams & Co., we are under obligations for the Yerka Herald of the 13th—and Adams & Co. for an extra of that paper of the 16th, (brought by Cram, Rogers & Co. to Shasta,) which contains the following exciting intelligence:

Three more men killed in Rogue River Valley and several wounded!

To Mr. J. Rogers, of Cram, Rogers & Co's Express, we are indebted for the following letter from our friend C. S. Drew, which we publish for the benefit of our readers:

On the evening of the 11th inst., Dr. William R. Rose and Jon. R. Hardin, while on their way to Dr. Ambrose's, from Capt Alden's encampment on Sewart's creek, were waylaid by the Indians, and the former instantly killed, and the latter dangerously if not mortally wounded. Dr Rose was horribly mutilated, being found the next morning with his eyes dug out, and his nose cut off. The Indians captured his rifle, revolver and clothing, together with six hundred dollars in cash. On the same day, George Anderson was badly wounded on the upper Applegate, in a skirmish with about thirty Indians. The company were under command of Lt. B. V. Griffin. On the 12th, Lt. Griffin made an attack upon the Indians on the lower Applegate, but was compelled to retreat, with the loss of one man, (Frank Carretty) and himself shot in the leg. In the afternoon a reinforcement was sent from Capt. Alden's command, and, at 2 o'clock this morning, upon receipt of the news of Lt. Griffin's defeat, another detachment was sent, and at this present moment a portion of the Humboldt volunteers are mounted, awaiting orders to march to the scene of battle.

The Indian chief John, on lower Applegate, says that he is backed by the Shasta tribe, and it is known that a large number of the Klamath's are also with him, togethted, awaiting orders to march to the scene of battle.

The Indian chief John, on lower Applegate, says that he is backed by the Shasta tribe, and it is known that a large number of the Klamath's are also with him, together with a certain Dr. Osmond, professing to be a white man. He is known to have furnished the Indians with ammunition since hostilities have commenced.

Too much praise cannot be awarded to Col. Allen, and the Yreka volunteers under Capt. J. P. Goodall, and to the Humboldt volunteers under Capt. Rhodes, for their promptness and perseverance in relieving us in the emergency.

We make the following extracts from a letter received by Mr. F. Rogers, from R. Dugan, Esq., dated, Jacksonville, August 13th :

There is now over 800 men mustered into the service under the command of Capt. Alden, of the U. S. A., who is appointed Colonel commanding, assisted by Col. John Ross. The Captains are, J. K. Lamerick, Mr. Miller, and Capt. Goodall, from Yreka. Chas. S. Drew is Quartermaster. Commissioners on military affairs are, Dr. Ed. Sheil, Geo. Dart, Mr. Davis and myself.

The Indians have burnt down the houses of Mr. Patrick, Capt. Sones, also that of Mr. Anderson, together with his hay and oats. Night before last they burnt Mr. Griffin's house and some hay stacks, they also shot some of Mr. Griffin's fine American horses. There is a great deal of stock killed and driven off.

It is reported that Griffin was attacked by 150 Indians. It is believed that there is white men engaged with them. Griffin took two white men prisoners; and several more are expected."
