UNION, CALIFORNIA, SATURDAY, JUNE 30, 1855.

COL. BENTON AND LIEUT. BEALE.—Col. Benton is out in a long letter, defending Lieut. Beale for whipping Col. Manypenny. He says "his dismissal was an injury to the public service and the choice of his successor another—this successor having none of the gifts which give ascendant over the savage mind, and only calculate to mar the work of Beale, which I am informed he has completely done." Lieut. Beale preferred charges to the President against Manypenny and furnished his proofs, to which he paid no attention.
