

SAN DIEGO HERALD.

1. SAN DIEGO, CAL., THURSDAY, JUNE 19, 1851.

— Union.

From the Seat of War.—The Indians have left their former strongholds, and retired to another at the confluence of the Silver Creek and the American. Maj. Rogers has crossed the South Fork with 300 men; one company is posted in front to watch the enemy, while the other three are to make a detour through Georgetown, to attack them in the rear.

A new mode of dislodging the enemy from their strong position is determined on; and is an improvement on Bragg and Magruder. Captain Johnson has sent to Gen Winn for two howitzers, such as could be packed on mules, and intends to attach to the service this walking, or mule-battery to play upon the savages from the valley and dislodge them from the high peak.
