CAPT. N. LYON, U. S. A.—This gallant and accomplished officer, who has been for some length of time in charge of the Quartermaster's Department at this Post, has, we understand, been ordered to join his company, and will leave as soon as the large amount of Government property in his hands can be taken account of and turned over to his successor.

Captain Lyons has, by his natural kindness of heart and unassuming and gentlemanly deportment, endeared himself to this whole community, and there is a universal expression of regret that he is about to leave us—especially by the men employed in the Quartermaster's Department. No one regrets the departure of Capt. L. more than ourselves, and we can only say—"Farewell! and God bless you, kind friend! May you find, at your new Post, hearts as warm as your own and friends as real as you leave behind you here."
