

THE BILL TO PROTECT the Gold Mineral Lands in California, introduced by Senator Flint, will be found printed in another column. It is intended to bear especially on the Chinese, and seems to possess some features of Cooley extraction. We may refer to it again, and would call the particular attention of our readers to it.

ACCIDENT.—While workmen were engaged in raising the block of buildings on Montgomery street known as Maynard's Row, one of the ceilings came down with a crash, completely burying one of the workmen, named Lewis Zigler, in the ruins. The spectators supposed him to be killed, which fortunately proved not to be the case. The injuries, although severe, are not dangerous, no bones being broken.

FROM THE INDIAN RESERVE.—King Weimeh, of the Nevada Indians, has recently returned to Grass Valley, after a long stay at the Tejon Reservation. The Telegraph, of yesterday, says: He represents all things at that place, as in a most favorable condition. Plenty of game and other eatables, good accommodations, Indians contented, work progressing, &c., &c. He says he has returned for the purpose of inducing thither more of his tribe, where he says they will be much better off than if continuing here.

It is in contemplation to establish a stage line between Stockton and the Kern River mines.
