

DEATH OF CAPT. SCHAEFFER'S INDIAN BOY.—Almost every body will recollect this smart intelligent little Indian boy, Zahooka, presented sometime since to Capt. Frank Schaeffer, of this city, by the old pioneer General Sutter. He and the dog "Cap" were always together; the boy had been for sometime ailing, and on Saturday was seized with violent spasms; he died that night about 12 o'clock. Passing by the wareroom of Coroner Whaling, yesterday afternoon, we went in to take a last look at the little fellow, as he lay on his narrow resting place. He looked just as he was asleep, and but for the presence of the coffin and the shroud, no one would have thought that he was dead. There are many who will sympathize with our friend the Captain on the loss of his little favorite, for he was his constant attendant, but he must not forget that he has only passed away to the hunting grounds of the Great Spirit!

STREET CONVENTICLES.—Yesterday was quite a favored day in regard to street religious exercising. During the afternoon one of the elect prepared a temporary rostrum on the corner of Brenham Place and Washington street, composed of a barrel and boards, and held forth for considerable time in a most forcible strain on "Paul and his conversion on the highway." Later in the day we noticed another of our citizens who had taken possession of the centre of Montgomery and Sacramento streets, where considerable of a crowd was assembled around him. We have no objection to the "time" or "subject," but think the "place" badly chosen.

The schooner Kate Hill, from Monterey, yesterday brought up Deputy Sheriff C. D. Hasson, with five candidates for admission to the State Prison. Their names, crimes, and terms of confinement are as follows:

Joaquin Soles Arvieta,	grand larceny,	2	years	State Prison.
James Hudson,	..	1
John Montanic,	..	2
Antonio Salgado,	..	2
A. Labra,	..	2

This hopeful crowd were all safely deposited at their new quarters yesterday, where they will have an ample opportunity to reflect on the effect of stealing.

Our thanks are due to Ullman, of the Post Office Exchange, for a choice selection of Eastern papers received by the Cortes; also to Jerry Sullivan, for Salt Lake papers received per America.

To Wells, Fargo & Co. we were indebted last evening, as usual, for the up-river papers; likewise to the Pacific Express Company for the same.

MAN SHOT IN JAMESTOWN.—We learn that a man named Farley, the keeper of a restaurant in Jamestown, was shot last evening about 5 o'clock, by —Baxter, and died almost instantly. We have not heard the particulars, but learn that Baxter is perfectly justified in the act.—Sonora Democrat.
