

Sacramento Daily Union, Volume 9, Number 1356, 31 July 1855 —
I Later from Northern California. [ARTICLE]

Back

Later from Northern California.

Our Humboldt and Klamath advices are to the 25th.

In Crescent City a regular amount of business has been done, and goods forwarded to the interior to meet the necessities of the country.

It is pleasing to observe the fine condition of the mules composing the large trains which daily frequent our city. Two years ago we were wont to behold poor, lean, rickety animals, though the packers received twice the present prices of freight; now they are with but few exceptions, sleek and fat. This is owing to the better attentions now bestowed upon these valuable auxiliaries in our trade no less than to improved trails, fine grass and the mildness of the climate this side the mountains, where the deleterious effects of excessive heat experienced in the valleys of the interior are counter-balanced on each arrival.

Three new brick buildings, commenced a few weeks since, are approaching completion, and another one, we understand, has been contracted for. Brick are delivered on the ground for $12 per thousand.

A number of pleasant cottages for family residences have lately been built in the rear of Front street. — Herald.

PELICANS and other aquatic birds have lately appeared in large numbers on our bay. The feathered tribe seem to play bo-peep with the finny inhabitants of the ocean. — Ib.

Trade in Humboldt county is also brisk. The Times says :

Supplies are purchased in this place for the mines on South Fork and New rivers, all of Trinity, from its mouth to Big Bay, a distance of about

... from the mouth to Big Bar, a distance of about one hundred miles, and the greater portion of Klamath and Salmon. Those streams, with their tributaries, drain an immense district of country, which gives employment to thousands of miners. The non-arrival of steamers for three weeks has reduced stocks very considerably, which has been but partially replaced by sail vessels. Prices, however, continue to rule very low.

The Indians are rapidly coming in to the Klamath Reservation.

FRED. WHITE.—In our last issue we noticed the killing by White, of an Italian, at the Forks of the Salmon. Mr. Smith, his partner, arrived in town this week. He informs us that White was justifiable, and that he had no cause to flee the country. Mr. Smith also informs us that White, before leaving, amply secured him, and all the other creditors.

This article has been automatically clipped from the Sacramento Daily Union 31 July 1855, organised into a single column, then optimised for display on your computer screen. As a result, it may not look exactly as it did on the original page. The article can be seen in its original form in the page view.