

VALLEJO.—At Vallejo, since the 1st of April last, a hundred and sixty houses have been erected, and numerous others are now in progress of erection.

ISTHMUS TRANSIT FACILITIES.—An iron launch now transports the luggage of passengers to and fro between ship and wharf at Panama. A second launch will shortly be completed.

The London Times has an article in a very desponding spirit, relative to the siege of Sebastopol. Another winter campaign, it predicts, is, under any circumstances, inevitable, and the condition of the army to face that contingency, it does not think is any better than it was the last winter.

The Richmond Despatch says that it is ascertained by experience that a person once having had the yellow fever cannot take it again in the place where he first had it; but may on going to another place where it is prevailing.

WHOLESALE MURDER OF WHITES BY INDIANS FIFTY KILLED.—In addition to the startling intelligence published by us a few days since, of murders committed in the northern portion of the State, by Indians, the Yreka Union of Saturday furnishes us with the subjoined painful information. It appears that nought save extermination is in store for the savages of that section of country:

On Tuesday morning, 9th inst., a large party of Indians collected and started down Rogue river, killing every white man who happened to fall in their way. At Evans' Ferry they found two or three men, whom they murdered, and then left the river for Waggoner's, on Louse Creek. Just before they reached Waggoner's they were met by a party of packers, with a large train, who saw from their appearance that there was something wrong with them. Presently the packers looked back and saw Waggoner's women and children in the house. They then cut loose their packs and run for their lives. The Indians pursued them closely, killing one of their mules.

They counted in their flight the bodies of 17 white men, who had been murdered along the road. Many of these were teamsters, and their loads had been scattered in every direction by the Indians, in searching for ammunition and liquor.

From Waggoner's it appears that the Indians, now nearly all drunk, again started down Rogue river, burning and murdering as they went.

On Wednesday they were overtaken by Major Fitzgerald, with 80 men, and a battle fought, in which 30 Indians and 10 soldiers are reported to have been killed.

Mrs Waggoner and child were murdered, and five other families along the route pursued by the Indians are said to have shared the same fate. The whole number of whites who have already fallen, from the best accounts, is between 30 and 50.

This article has been automatically clipped from the Marysville Daily Herald 20 October 1855, organised into a single column, then optimised for display on your computer screen. As a result, it may not look exactly as it did on the original page. The article can be seen in its original form in the page view.