

Shasta Courier, Volume 3, Number 32, 14 October 1854 — Untitled [ARTICLE]

Back

BY LAST NIGHT'S MAIL.—Adams & Co. were first on hand yesterday evening with files of Marysville, Sacramento and San Francisco papers of the latest dates. They are barren of news.

TO TAX PAYERS.—Persons owning real estate or personal property in Trinity and Shasta Counties, should recollect that the State and County taxes are now due, and that the Sheriff, if they are not paid before the 16th inst., will be compelled by law to collect them with costs. See their advertisements.

GEN. WOOL.—We are informed that while Gen. Wool was at Fort Reading, last week, a number of Indian Chiefs came from the mountains to visit him. They expressed themselves utterly opposed to being removed to the reservation in Colusa, and claimed his protection against the project. They assured the General that they would maintain relations of friendship with the whites during the winter. We had prepared an article on the subject of the Indians for this week's paper, but are compelled to omit it in order to find room for the thrilling account of the destruction of the Yankee Blade.

☞ As there seems to be no earthly chance of electing an editor to the Senatorial dignity, our brothers, Helm, McDonald, Dosh, et il omne genus, may perhaps agree with us in the propriety of taking up an outsider and making the best of him.—Marysville Herald.

After mature deliberation, and with the conviction that our chances are singularly slim, we reluctantly consent to withdraw all pretensions