

LOH.
 MR. STEEN.—The Transcript says that the utmost efforts of Marshal McKenzie and the City Police have been made to unravel the mystery that hangs over the fate of Mr. Steen, without avail. Six of the most active and efficient policemen have been detailed for the service. If any human power can discover the murderers they will be arrested. Yesterday, by the request of the Marshal, Capt Johns, of the First California Guard, caused cannon to be fired in the vicinity of the spot where the man was supposed to have disappeared, and it was hoped that the body might be found by this means. This expedient, however failed.

E CLAMPSUS VITUS.—This order in Sacramento, we learn from the Journal, is in a prosperous condition, nearly five hundred persons in Sacramento having been initiated into the mysteries of the order within three weeks. The Journal states that the N. G. H. for the State is to be elected to-day.

MORE REPORTS ABOUT SANTA ANNA.—Mr. Elliott, messenger for Adams' Express Company, who arrived on Sunday last on the Cortes, furnishes the Times and Transcript with the following information:

At Manzanilla the steamer Cortes ran into port, and was met by the Captain of the port and other officials.—Manzanilla is hereafter to be the depot for the Nicaragua line of steamers for coaling, getting supplies of water, fruits and provisions. It has a most beautiful harbor, and is said to have one of the finest interior lands on the Pacific Coast. We were informed there that Santa Anna has left Mexico for the southern States, and that Jose Santa Anna has gone to the northern States—they had no troops with them. Alvarez is in pursuit, and it is thought will take the city without opposition.

TEJON RESERVATION.—Col. Henley, Superintendent of Indian Affairs, who has returned from the Tejon about ten days since, informs the Sacramento Union that the Indians have put in very large crops of wheat and barley, and have also raised a large amount of garden vegetables for their own consumption. The object for putting in so large a crop, the Superintendent says, has been to provide a sufficiency of food over and above the supply required for a single season, inasmuch as it not unfrequently happens in that section of the State that the drought is so long continued and severe, as to entirely cut off the growing crops. The Indians are peaceable and industrious.

REGISTRY BILL.—A few days since the ayes and nays were taken in the Assembly on Mr. Stevenson's motion to strike out "native born" in the bill to prevent frauds in elections. The following is the result:

THE CAPITAL QUESTION.—In the Assembly, on Saturday, a bill submitting the permanent location of the capital to the people, was killed very dead, and for one we are glad of it. As we have expressed ourselves many times before, we wish to see no more removals, until a better
