

reason of the fact that one of the members of Grand Jury could not produce record evidence that he was a citizen of the United States. The opinion of the Supreme Court, we presume, will be known in a few days.

SUPPOSED MURDER.—Two men arrived at this place on Thursday, from a prospecting tour on McCloud River. They report the mysterious disappearance of three of their companions, one night, while in the McCloud River country. The missing men went on guard, and in the morning were no where to be found. The two men remaining then left their camp, and after traveling a few miles, came suddenly upon an Indian rancharie, where they observed some clothing belonging to their missing companions. It was with the utmost difficulty that the two men then made their escape. We do not like the fashion of this tale.

WEAVERVILLE THEATRE.—Mr. J. W. Thoman, late Stage Manager of the Metropolitan and American Theaters, San Francisco, passed through this place, in the early part of the week, on his way to Weaverville, for the purpose of taking charge of the new Theater, recently erected by Messrs. E. B. Blake & C. E. Rowe. Mr. Thoman has with him Miss Mowbray, Miss Williamson, Petite Laura, Messrs. Young, Draher, Travers, Simmons and others, and will, we have no doubt, afford the Weavervillians many a rich treat. Mr. T. proposes to establish a Theatrical Circuit in this portion of the State, embracing Shasta, Weaverville and Yreka, and to give a series of dramatic performances at these places. A friend at San Francisco writes us that he is
