

time the new regiments were authorized by Congress. From the indications above hinted at, it is probable there will be work for them to do on their arrival, and it is but justice to a brave and accomplished officer, to say that in the performance of arduous duty in the public service there is none more likely honorably to acquit himself of its responsibilities.

FROM SAN BERNARDINO—ANTICIPATED TROUBLE WITH THE INDIANS.—An express arrived on the 8th, to Capt Burton, commander of the Post at the Mission, from San Bernardino, stating that the Indians in that vicinity were becoming troublesome, stealing their cattle and daily threatening greater depredations. The chief of a tribe of neighboring Indians has openly said, that as all the different tribes in the State have been provided for by the Government, and have received numberless presents, while they have been entirely neglected and unprovided for, they are determined to provide for themselves. Although no overt attack has been made, the settlers are alarmed, and have sent to Capt. Burton asking his assistance in case of need.

THANKS—To Mr. Gardner of Wells, Fargo & Co., Mr. Fort, of the Pacific Express, and Gilbert & Hedges' for an abundant supply of Atlantic and up-country papers, received by the steamer Senator.

MR. J. W. SULLIVAN, of San Francisco, has supplied us liberally with papers from all parts of the Atlantic States, and from Europe, Australia and the Sandwich Islands, for which we are much indebted. We would, while speaking of Mr. Sullivan, refer our readers to his advertisement, in another column.
