

Humboldt Bay, amounting to 524,000 feet.

The Sacramento Union says that Capt. Mathews, the diving-bell man, who made the submarine excursion across the Sacramento, at that city, about a week ago, suffocated at San Francisco on Saturday evening. He was endeavoring to recover a lost anchor and chain.

The Nomee Lackee fishery, established near Tehama, for the benefit of the Indians, is proving quite a profitable enterprise.

A Washington correspondent writes that a cabinet meeting has been held to consider the feasibility of a ship canal across the Isthmus of Darien.

The Stockton Argus says that about thirty miles southwest from Stockton, near the line of San Joaquin county, a coal field has been discovered.

The revenue of the General Government from customs, from the ports of New York, Boston, Philadelphia, Baltimore, Charleston, New Orleans, and St. Louis, for the quarter ending October 1st, was $14,660,000.

This article has been automatically clipped from the Georgetown News 29 November 1855, organised into a single column, then optimised for display on your computer screen. As a result, it may not look exactly as it did on the original page. The article can be seen in its original form in the page view.